Important:

The instructions and warranty information supplied with this product form an important part of your purchase and contain full instructions for its use and limitation of our liability for any loss or damage arising from your misuse of Gas Safety Gauge for any reason. This does not affect any non excludable rights you may have under the Australian Consumer Law or any other state/territory consumer legislation in your country. If you do not agree with the limitation detailed below, you should return your Gas Safety Gauge to us together with proof of purchase within 7 days of purchase for a full refund.

The automatic shut off system has limitations:

Gas Safety Gauge will not shut off if there is a small leak, if flame extinguishes on the appliance or, if leak is not large enough to activate shutoff mechanism. Shut off may occur if device is subject to low temperatures, or not set properly or, gas appliance knobs are left on, or low gas levels are present or, appliance uses more than 110MJ or subject to high flow of gas. Shut off should occur if high flow of gas, or regulator fails delivering bottle pressure, or if hose is cut off, burnt off or ripped off delivering bottle pressure downstream from gas supply.
